

The town of Ridgeway loves to read and we invite you to read with us!

Our current selection is author Sandy Vassallo's new book,
Once In A Blue Moon.

Sandy has said....

In order to assist in some small way, I am donating all royalties I receive from the sale of this book to help with relief for my fellow neighbors here in Columbia, SC from the devastating flooding. Many in my beautiful city have lost everything and since most did not have flood insurance they are truly lost. I hope you will help and by so doing 1/3 of what you will spend is helping someone in need. God bless and thank you.

The public is encouraged to read the book. It is available at the Fairfield County Art Council's Gallery at Over The Top located at 115 Palmer Street in Ridgeway and at other fine Ridgeway merchants. It is also available online and in the library.

We will get together in January at the Century House in Ridgeway to discuss the book and enjoy refreshments and each other's company. Please plan to join us.

This event is sponsored by the Fairfield County Arts Council and the Town of Ridgeway. It is open to the general public. For information contact Darlene Embleton at 803-629-0093.
