

Ridge Notes Ridgeway, South Carolina

Revitalization, Responsibility, Relationships

Pig on the Ridge November 3-4, 2017

If you took a stroll through the alphabet regarding all things “Southern”, “B” would certainly stand for “Barbecue” and “R” for “Ridgeway” where you can find the best tasting pork in the South! It is Pig on the Ridge time, November 3-4, 2017. If you are interested in not only eating but cooking, volunteering, or displaying and selling crafts, please contact Tom Connor 337-8880, Henry Dixon 337-2388, Rufus Jones 337-8771, or Donald Prioleau 337-2105. The rest of our community should be preparing to throw out the welcome mat with good ole southern hospitality. Let’s spruce up our Town, put out our pigs, fly our flags, and get ready to eat some good barbecue.

Severe Weather Conditions

Ridgeway was spared during the recent hurricane as only a few trees fell and electricity was off for some but no one was harmed. We appreciate the assistance of DOT and SCE&G as well as our employees who cleared up the town from all the debris. We commend community members and Pig on the Ridge who donated funds to those impacted by Hurricane Harvey. Procedures for severe weather conditions and other hazardous situations are posted on our website at www.ridgewaysc.org.

Light Up Ridgeway

As the fall season approaches and the days get shorter, citizens are encouraged to turn on their front porch lights to welcome travelers, tourists, shoppers, and diners to Ridgeway. A well-lit town is an inviting and safer town for all to enjoy.
